Signing up for Psychology Experiments
Instructions

• http://experimetrix.com/vandy/
  Experimetrix is a web site that handles the scheduling of all of the psychology experiments available for credit. It also keeps track of which experiments you participated in and how many credits you earned.

• You need to register to use the system (instructions are included here). You will need an e-mail address to register. You only need to register once.

• After you’ve registered, you may check the web site any time throughout the term for available experiments. Signing up for experiments is a one-click process!

• Contents
  - How to register (7 steps)
  - How to sign up for experiments (5 steps)
  - How to see your schedule, cancel experiments, check your credits, etc. (3 steps)

• For help, contact the webmaster, marvin.chun@vanderbilt.edu
